

PRESENTATION

Dear Participant,

On behalf the Executive Board of the IFSWT – International Federation of Shock Wave Treatment, we are pleased to invite you to attend the International Focal Shock Wave Congress, which will take place in Rome on May 29–30, 2026, at the prestigious Complesso Monumentale del Santo Spirito, in collaboration with SITOD and BIORI.

This event represents an important opportunity for experts, researchers, and professionals from around the world to meet and exchange insights in the field of bioregenerative medicine and regenerative medical treatments, with a special focus on the use of focal shock waves in conservative medicine and pre- and post-surgical applications.

The congress will feature scientific sessions, interactive workshops, and round tables dedicated to the latest innovations in the field, offering participants a unique opportunity for professional development and international networking.

The event will simultaneously host:

- The International Focal Shock Wave Congress (www.ifswt.org)
- The National BIORI Congress (www.biori.it)
- The SITOD Advanced Certification Course (www.sitod.it)
